Fall

Fall, the season of bright, falling leaves, of frosty mornings and golden afternoons, is to the students of Tazwell High School the time to begin another year of learning, sports, and activities. It is a time of renewing old friendships and of making new friends. It is a beginning!

Fall is bonfires initiations and harvest.

No! That's not it at all.

What have they done to Coach Kiser?!!!

Winter

Winter brings snow to the town between the mountains. By this time, a school day to THS students is very routine and causes very little excitement. However, the first snow brings not only late buses and cold, rosy-cheeked students, but thoughts of the approaching Christmas vacation and, in the backs of their minds, thoughts of the mid-term exams. Winter combines gaiety with dread in the halls of THS.

Spring, with its blossoming trees and flowers and its pleasant warm days, is to many a beginning. To THS students it signifies the beginning of the end of another school year. Spring brings Easter Vacation and a relief from hard study. To many students it brings the familiar "spring fever." All in all, spring is life to the corridors of Tazewell High School.

Spring

Now really! No one falls asleep at the Prom.

Spring? The new elementary school?!!

"And the same thing happens to the birds and the bees."

Summer brings the end of another school year at THS. To many Seniors, it is the end of five years of hard study, fun, friends, and activities. In any case, summer brings blue skies and clear, blue waters as the students of THS flock to the beaches, camps, vacation spots and join in numerous other summertime activities. Summer is the time of fun before another year of hard work.

Hey! Wait for me!!!!!!

Summer

Foreword

The years at Tazewell High School have been a mixture of fun, hard work, lasting friendships, honors and events to remember. We, the Senior Class of 1964, now see these past five years passing before us and we begin to realize their importance in our lives. It is with these years in mind that we proudly present this edition of THE PEAK. It is our sincere wish that it will provide many hours of enjoyment for you.

Sincerely Dedicated . . .

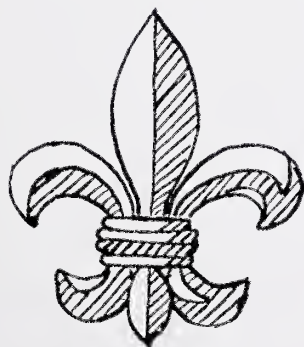

THE PEAK of 1964 is proudly dedicated to one who tries to instill in us the desire to search for knowledge and to develop our minds to the fullest extent; to one who teaches us the basic principles of grammar in both French and English; to one who is helpful to and considerate of all those around her; to one of the many who are helping us along the path toward our goals in life. We the annual staff, sincerely dedicate this edition of THE PEAK to Mrs. Eleanor Smith.

Apprenez les temps primitifs et derives des verbes partir, rire, et croire.

Mrs. Smith is always very helpful to members of the annual staff.

"Look to your health; and if you have it, praise God, and value it next to a good conscience; for health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of, --- a blessing that money cannot buy --- be quiet and go a-angling."

Isaak Walton 1593-1683

Nearly three centuries later, I cannot improve on the advice given above by the grandfather of all fishermen.

No one ever found a better road to a clear conscience and good health than the one that leads to a trout stream, a river, or a lake. As you read this, "I have laid aside business, and gone a-fishing. Angling may be said to be so like mathematics that it can never be fully learnt." Times a-wasting!

Here we are, Seniors! The time has been long-awaited and the name has been well-earned. When each has gone his separate way, he will look back and remember the thrill of getting a class ring, the sound of those wonderful words "Seniors first," a ballgame won or lost, a date, a dance, a friend, and, most of all, graduation. This is a time of mingled happiness and sadness, and a time to be remembered. As we, the Senior Class of 1964, look back over our years at THS, let us remember them as a never-ending part of our lives.

Sophomores

When we were eighth graders we thought, "If only we could be Sophomores," because people seemed to think in terms of eighth and ninth grades, and Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. But even though our goal has changed, we are still very thrilled over the activities of our Sophomore year ----- An annual party for the Sophomore class, three rising Juniors chosen in the Spring to be cheerleaders for the next year, and S.C.A. Secretary for the following year chosen from our class. Altogether, it is pretty exciting ----- being a Sophomore.

Freshmen

With one year of high school behind us, we, the Freshman class, had returned to school full of plans, grabbing for every minute that was quickly ticking away. As time passed we really began to feel as though we were a part of the school. Being Freshmen brought many happy hours spent at ballgames, dances and just plain working. We were so proud of the honors bestowed upon members of our class as the year slipped away. And now, with three more full years before us, we take another step forward as we proudly say "We're Sophomores."

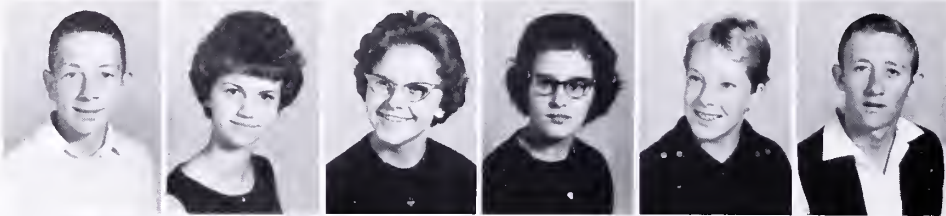

Motto: Your reach should exceed your grasp.

"Eighth Graders". These were magic words full of hope and anticipation for the future. This year we entered the fast-paced world of T.H.S. for the first time. We remember well our first hectic weeks of school. Slowly we learned to find our classes and make new friends. Now we can say with pride, "T.H.S. is our high School."

A cheer for the captain! A cheer for the team! Those are common yells during football season. Frantic, happy sounds that go well with bubbling enthusiasm, fall colors, and the newness of the school year. We, the students of T.H.S., watch the football teams carry the ball through opposing teams and over water-soaked fields for that all important touchdown, the one that won the game. We cheered you and admired you as you dragged off the field grimy and muddy, but often victorious.

Annual Staff

Martha, Sandy, and Carol discuss theme.

Stacks and stacks of pictures.

This is the annual staff of 1963-64. These are the people who give to you, the students, the means by which you can remember the hard work, the long hours, the teachers, the fellow students, the activities, and the fun of each of the five years of your high school life.

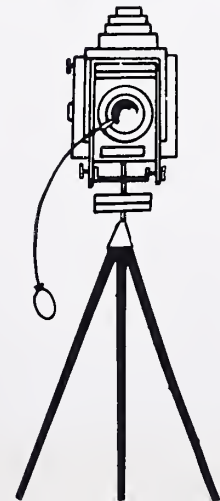

Themes, layouts, pictures, schedules, deadlines---just plain hard work is the way they spend their time. But when the annual reaches the hands of the students and the staff sees the approval, the work becomes worth while. These students who serve without credit and with constant criticism spend a good year of hard work and fun.

The typing seems endless.

The money's hard to come by, especially the ad money.

The purpose of this club is to develop among the students and faculty a more effective knowledge and understanding of the sports in which our school participates. It is also to inform the students and faculty of the training in sportsmanship our school athletes receive from participation in sports with other schools.

To qualify for membership in this club a candidate must have a letter obtained in a varsity sport of our school. He also must express his intentions of joining the club to the sponsor or to an active member. A candidate becomes a member after passing initiation set up by the executive committee.

ACTING, it has often been said, is 10 per cent talent, and 90 per cent sweat. We, as Thespians, know the long hours of rehearsals, practicing lines, and just plain sweating that go into making a play a hit. The endless seconds spent waiting for laughter or tears from an audience add years to our lives. Our world is a stage; we are the playmakers, the dreamers, actors, one and all.

Distributive Education

The Distributive Education Club of T.H.S. is composed of students enrolled in the D.E. class. The chapter to which they belong is just a small part of the state and national organizations.

The club's purpose is to promote leadership, develop social intelligence, increase vocational competency, and to encourage economic literacy. Also, the club's aim is to provide a professional organization for students.

The students must work well, keep up their grades in all classes, and attend local, state, and, if they're lucky, national conventions which are held each year. At these conventions, contests are held and D.E. students from this school have won very high honors.

The Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training classes are very much the same thing. In both classes the student attends school during the morning, then goes to work in the afternoon.

The ICT program differs in that it applies to occupational training. In this manner, a student learns different phases of his job through classroom training, and then has a chance to put the information into actual practice.

Though many times we go unobserved, we carry on our work and duties all through the school year. As other clubs do, we also go through those dreaded days of initiation. Our instructor, Mr. Santolla, guides us in such things as welding, plant study, analysis of the soil, and the many skills that make a successful farmer. As summer approaches, we have a better chance to use our skills and knowledge. We shall not soon forget the many fun-filled hours and good times we spent in acquiring this knowledge.

Talking it over sometimes straightens things out.

As each new year takes on a new approach, so do the programs at T.H.S. Our assemblies, programs, talent shows, chapel programs, plays, pep rallies and the many other events are all part of our daily lives while in school. As each program comes to an end, there are only more preparations being made for another exciting and interesting program.

They have the supporting role.

"Come on, girls." "It's six o'clock!" "Burr'. It's cold out here!" "Hey, straighten up those lines!" "Help! I can't find my cap!" "You must stay awake in assembly, girls--we've got to be the model city." These are common phrases coming from the grounds of Radford College for a week each summer as Virginia Girl Staters invade the campus. Girls from all over Virginia come to Radford to learn about their state government. A lot of work, a lot of fun, and new friends, make up an unforgettable week at Virginia Girls' State.
